- (2) Skill Rating - Ability to retain possession.
- (3) Goal Scoring Potential - Ability to Create Goal Scoring Chances.

Their Style of Play and Match Tactics will also be displayed as follows:

STYLE OF PLAY 1 = Short Passing game

 3 = Attacking game.

NOTE: Your Opponents may vary their Style of Play during a match.

You then select your team and five substitutes and choose your Style of Play and Match Tactics.

If you select (Y)es for AUTO KICK OFF the Match will run through to Full Time without stopping. If you select (N)o you will need to press C whenever the C prompt appears at the bottom of the screen, ie. for the Kick Off, Half Time & Penalties, etc. The Game Speed is variable from 1-10 (10 being slowest).

The MATCH SCREEN presents an Overview of the Pitch showing the movement & direction of play along with full match commentary. In addition to the Team names and score, the SCOREBOARD will also confirm the number of Goal Attempts (GA) for each team, the number of substitutes used and the venue, ie. (H)ome, (A)way or (N)eutral Ground. Your Team will play from Left to Right in the First Half and from Right to Left in the second Half.

You may use up to two substitutes for each match. To bring on a sub. press the S key whenever play stops (ie. for a free kick, corner, throw-in, etc.) and you see the Sub? prompt at the bottom of the scoreboard.

The League Tables for all Groups will be calculated and updated if required. During this calculation the 8 Groups will be listed showing the Team names and (P)osition in the League.

STRATEGY & TACTICS

Before selecting your team and deciding on your Match Tactics you will have the opportunity to study your Opponents Team strengths (Match Screen 1) and their style of play and match tactics.

From this listing you will see a breakdown of the Tackling Ability, Skill Rating and Goal Scoring Potential for their Defence, Midfield and Attack. Using your Skill and Judgement you should try to exploit their weaknesses by careful team selection and by choosing the Style of Play and Team Tactics best suited to your players. For Example, if your opponents have a much stronger team than you, you may decide to select a 4-4-2 or 5-3-2 formation, playing defensive tactics and using the long ball game to get the ball quickly to your forwards in the hope that they can score on the break. Of course, this tactic is only likely to succeed if you have skilful forwards capable of keeping the ball and creating goal scoring chances.

Alternatively, you may prefer to play short passes to slow the game down and so reduce your opponents possession and their chances of scoring. This tactic is more likely to succeed if you have skilful players capable of retaining possession.

Attacking, Defensive, Long Ball, Short Passing Game, 4-4-2, 4-2-4, 4-3-3, etc., whatever the tactics, you are the Manager and you must decide. You will be able to judge your team's performance by the movement of play, match commentary and the number of goal scoring attempts by both sides. For example, a strong defence playing well should be able to prevent the opposition from creating Goal Attempts (GA's) even if their opponents have a lot of possession in and around the penalty area. Similarly, a strong attack should be able to create chances given the right type of service from midfield.

REMEMBER, you will have the opportunity to change tactics at half time (except if using AUTO KICK OFF) and by giving new instructions when sending on a substitute.

TACTICAL NOTES

1. You are advised to select a recognised Goal-keeper in your team (Skill Level 1-5). His skill level will reflect his ability to keep out shots.
2. Keep an eye on your squad's Monthly Medical Report and the current form of the Players not in your squad. By skilful use of these options you can strengthen your squad by bringing in in-form players and transferring out the weaker or injured players. You must ensure that you have a minimum of 16 available players in your squad (ie. 11 players + 5 subs.).

3. Goals can be scored by any player in the team so you will increase your chances of scoring goals by having a good Goal Scoring Potential throughout your team.
4. Month 16 (MAY) is your last opportunity to strengthen your squad from the pool of Other Players before taking your Final Squad of 22 to the Finals in June.
5. Use Friendlies to practice your Tactics, Test different players and playing Styles.
